English Department Offers Composition Course

Mrs. Nancy Lombardelli

The English Department offered a composition course in order to better prepare students for college. Under the guidance of Miss Saulnier and Mr. Linehan the course gave the student a basic understanding of the construction of an essay. The Department also placed an emphasis upon English literature in the senior year. Through their varied programs, the faculty gave students an understanding of the fundamentals of the language.

Contemporary Affairs Introduced

The Social Studies Department introduced a Contemporary Affairs course that kept the student abreast with the world around him. Under the supervision of Mr. Mullins, the New York Times served as a base from which the students would expound upon. His course is considered a great advancement for Ludlow High School in regard to progressive education. The course has no text book and has no planned lesson as in other classes — instead, it gives the student a chance to speak out upon situations in his town or in the world.

Math Department Emphasizes Senior Calculus

The Math Department offered a variety of courses to the students of Ludlow High School. Included in the curriculum were Algebra I, Algebra II, Geometry, Trigonometry, Solid Trigonometry and Calculus. The senior year of Trigonometry especially emphasized calculus to prepare the student for college math. Through these courses, the Math Department gave the student a basic concept of various mathematical theories and principles.

Science Department Works On Curriculum Stud

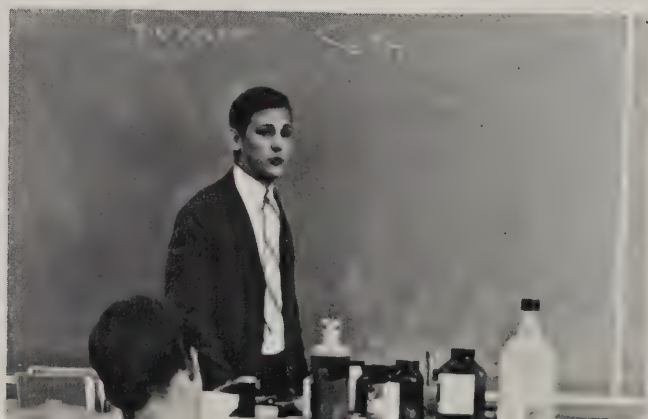

The Science Department took more steps this year in furthering the development of its curriculum. Involved in this development was a new curriculum study. Also involved was a classroom study in which the students themselves became more independent in class through laboratory experiments and research papers. In the Biology II, Chemistry, and Physics courses, the students were individually given projects and fields of study. Throughout the year, the Science Department has studied ways to improve its curriculum for the student's benefit.

Business Department Offers Semester Course In Personal Typing

The Business Department this year, added a course to its curriculum with the non-commercial student in mind. The course, Personal Typing, was geared to the student who wanted a basic understanding and skill of the typewriter. Also introduced in the office machine program, was the keypunching course which involved the operation of a keypunch machine. Through the adoption of new curriculum, the Business Department has tried to help the non-commercial student as well as furthering the learning capability of the commercial student.

Language Department Expands With Increased Enrollment

Mrs. Philomene Proctor, Department Chairman

The Language Department took its first steps toward assuming a more important role in education. All courses have begun to undergo updating in an effort to interest the students. New changes in curriculum, newer books, and audio visual aids are being added, making these courses more effective. In return, the students have responded with an increased enrollment in all language classes. The three language clubs, Junior Classical League, French Club, and Spanish Club have become more active than ever.

Guidance Department Steers Students Into The Future

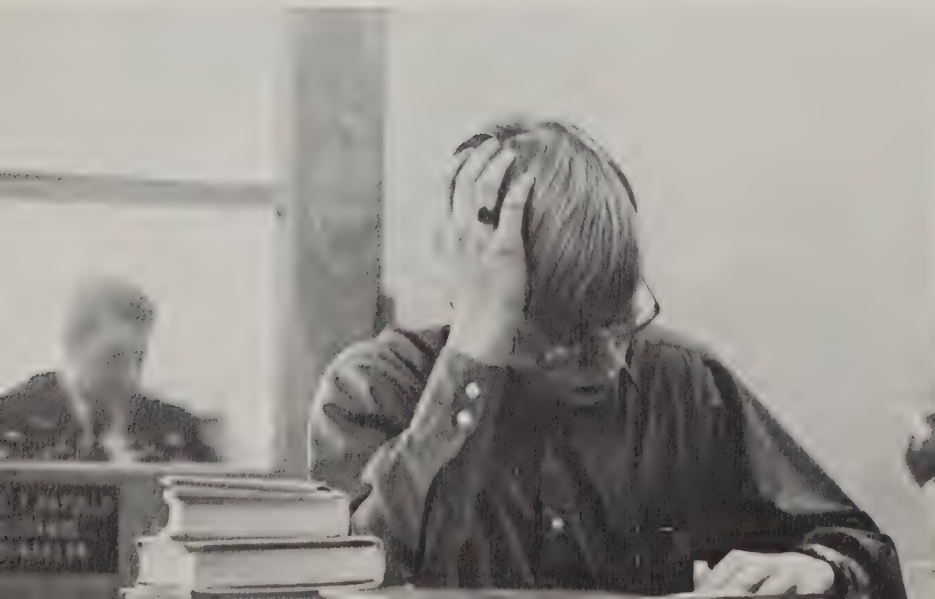

The Guidance Department performed many functions besides its usual college placement program. Its main goal has become the placing of terminal students in a position of steady work. Holding a Career Day, the department, in association with the Springfield Rotary Club, allowed local companies to interview students for positions of employment. This was followed by a Vocational Job Fair, held in conjunction with Ludlow's Chamber of Commerce. Students at this Fair were given the opportunity to be interviewed for full-time career jobs.

1970 Lion Dedication

Mr. Charles A. Bradshaw

YOU'RE A GOOD MAN, CHARLIE B . . .

Entering our world only two years ago, you sensed something different about our class, and tapped our hidden creativity — first, through the JCL, then, inspiring us further as our yearbook advisor and Senior Assembly director. We'd see you, rushing through the halls, excited, frantic, worried — about us. And at our final assembly, with your plea, "Come on, Sparky!" you showed us the seriousness of the life we are entering, and the great friend we are leaving behind. We dedicate our book to you, Charlie B., as a small token of our eternal friendship and gratitude. Thank you for sharing so much of yourself with us.

The Class of 1970

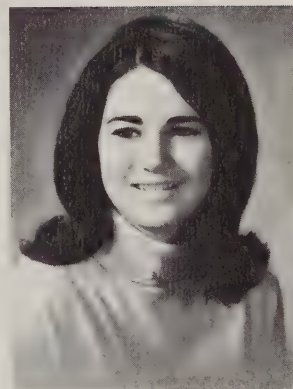

The Class Of 1970 Presents . . .

On Friday and Saturday evenings, February 13 and 14, the senior class celebrated the dawning of the Age of Aquarius with the traditional Senior Show. While a full house of parents and friends watched enthusiastically, the Class of 1970 began "Who Knows Where the Time Goes" with a chorus of "Aquarius" and proceeded with the twenty-eight acts, filled with songs and humor. Walter Boldys, Gerald Belisle, Chris Nowak, and Michele Therrien shared the stage as Masters of Ceremonies. For the closing, all seniors reappeared for the final choruses of "Try to Remember" and "Aquarius/Let the Sunshine In."

Rehearsals for the production began in January, under the direction and frustration of Mr. William Mullins, and advisors Mr. Joseph Andreis, Mr. James Cavallo, and Mr. Charles Patullo. Mr. Gregory Wrinn was the music co-ordinator and Mr. Royce Layman directed the stage band. Co-chairmen June Fernandes and Frank Curto worked closely with the advisors in planning rehearsals, schedules and supplying ideas to the groups. Anticipation became dismay as show week arrived without the expected snow, thus eliminating plans for the traditional snow sculpture.

On Thursday afternoon, at the dress rehearsal, the seniors performed for an audience of children from the Belchertown State School. This spontaneous sharing of efforts made the show much more meaningful to everyone.

It was truly a time to remember!

Dark and solemn suspends a sky above a soiled and helpless earth, with only a single shaft of light which beckons man towards greater dreams.
Human life onward plodding,

slipping,

struggling,

diminishing,

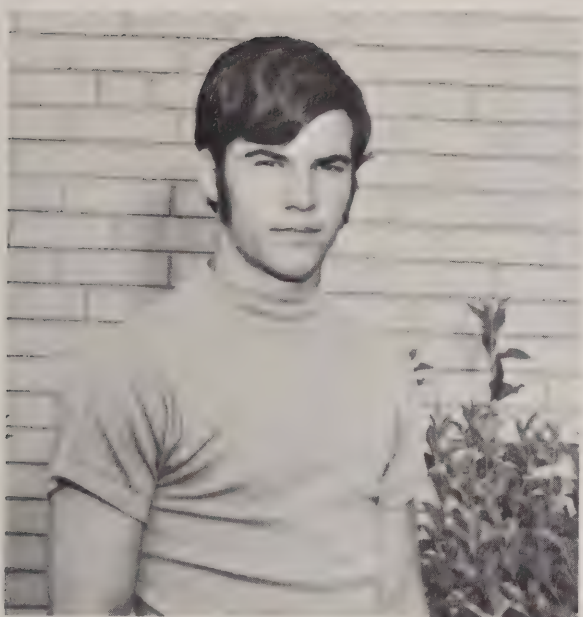

the malignant forces of hunger, poverty,
division, and hatred.

Earnest footprints in the sod mark each man's meritorious deeds — still unseen in clearing skies.

One small step made by man embedded on the earthen rind and though fresh blades sprout through — it is a greater step for all mankind.

Class Day Begins Commencement Activities

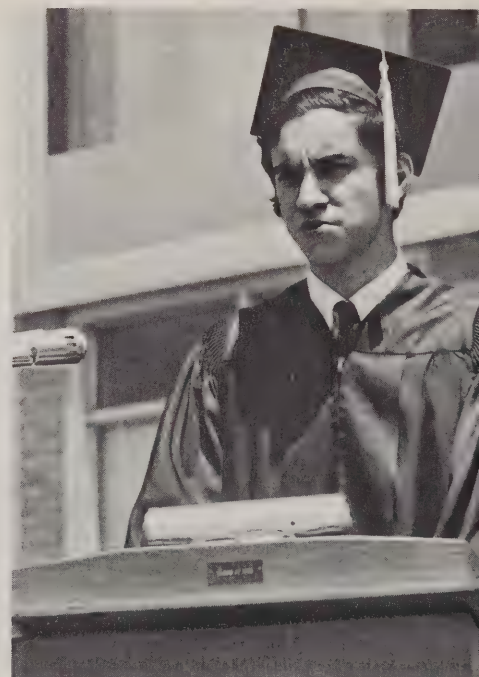

The Processional — "Pomp and Circumstance"

On Monday, June eighth, to the strains of "Pomp and Circumstance," the Senior Class walked solemnly through the doors of the high school, and assembled on the wide steps. Standing in the noonday sun before parents, friends, and fellow students, the Class ceremoniously marked the beginning of the end of their life at Ludlow High. After addresses including those of Mr. Hurley and Mr. MacFarlane, Gloria Jaworski's Invocation, and the singing of the Alma Mater, led by Christine Nowak, the officers planted the Class Tree, a living symbol left by the class. During the recessional, seniors anticipated their final gathering, the Senior Banquet, to be held that evening.

Class President James Tetreault addresses the assembly.

Class Officers plant the tree.

Holly Langton recites her Class Poem.

Awaiting the dinner, seniors read their final issue of the Hi-News.

Ed Martin provides the best, and everyone improvises on the traditional polka.

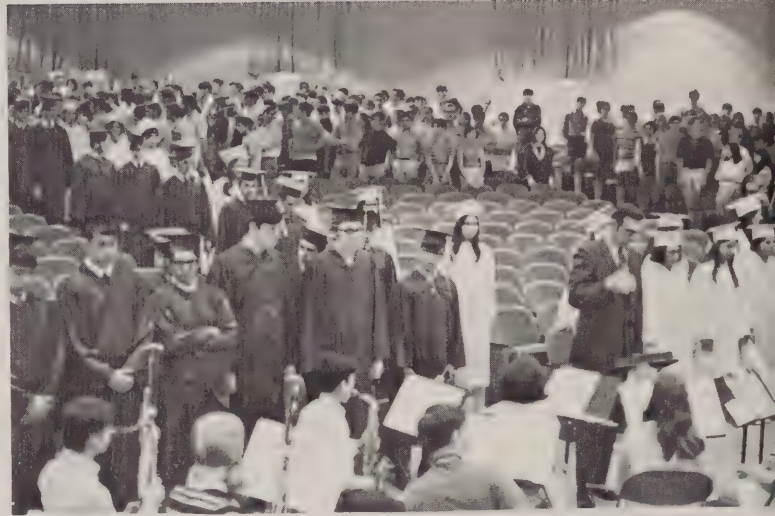

Seniors Gather For Last Revel

It was an evening to remember the rest of one's life. Hit with the realization of the closeness of the end, seniors and faculty gathered in the Polish-American Hall on East Street, to enjoy a delicious, catered dinner, lively music by Ed Martin's Tijuana Brass, and most of all, each other's company. It was a night that should have lasted forever, and will . . . in our most precious memories!

Seniors Initiate New Tradition At Final Assembly

The Presentation of the Peace Pipe to the Class of 1971, thus marking a new tradition to be carried out annually, highlighted the fresh and original 1970 version of the usually stiffly formal Senior Assembly. The "new" touches, initiated at the June ninth program, awakened memories of the Senior Show's claim on the Age of Aquarius. Highlights of the program included the reading of the Class Prophecy by Kimberly McChesney, the dedication of the 1970 LION by Kenneth McCarron, slides of the seniors during their childhood days, narrated by Christine Nowak, and the Guest Speaker, Mr. David Kelly of the UMass Athletic Coaching Staff. Mr. Charles Bradshaw, in an eloquent speech, voiced his hopes and fears for the seniors' future. After the Benediction and Moment of Silence by Father LeClaire, seniors exited the auditorium for the last time — their final farewell to the student body.

The Senior Class enters the auditorium for the last time.

Mr. David Dziura accepts a gift from a group of seniors.

Mr. Charles Bradshaw officially accepts the 1970 LION dedication, and gives the graduating class some farewell advice in an unforgettable speech.

Cheryl Cristina, 1970 LION Editor-in-Chief, comments on the publication, and thanks the many persons who helped the staff during the school year.

Patricia Martowski reads the Class History.

Evelyn Nowak, Senior Class Treasurer, presents the Class Gift to Principal John J. Hurley — a check to be used towards a scoreboard at Whitney Park.

Due to the largeness of the Class of 1970, and the capacity limit of the high school auditorium, commencement exercises, traditionally held at the high school, were transferred to the Springfield Municipal Auditorium, where atmosphere and ceremony combined to make a moving and beautiful experience.

On the evening of June 10, parents, friends, and relatives gathered in the elegant Municipal Auditorium to observe the commencement exercises for the 291 members of the Senior Class. At the stroke of eight o'clock, the class processed underneath the flowered arches held by members of the Junior Class. Speakers included Valedictorian Michael Knapp and Class President James Tetreault, and the class was awarded its diplomas by Dr. Reuben Katz, Chairman of the School Committee. Highlights of the program included the presentation of academic awards by Principal John J. Hurley, and the final, traditional farewell by the Concert Choir, "The Lord Bless You and Keep You." Following the closing of the program, the Class of 1970, now graduates of Ludlow High School, filed out of the auditorium to the now-familiar "Pomp and Circumstance," disbanded forever as a class, and prepared to face the future.

The Concert Choir and Band combined for an enlightening anthem, "Onward Ye Peoples," by Sibelius.

THE WHITE HOUSE

WASHINGTON

TO THE 1970 GRADUATING CLASS
LUDLOW SENIOR HIGH SCHOOL

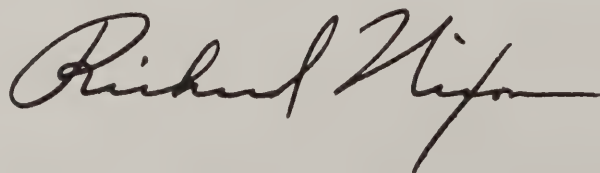

It is traditional on commencement day to congratulate the senior class and to address all of the graduates in terms of what the future holds for them. I am breaking that tradition, and instead of congratulating and addressing the class as a whole, I would prefer to direct my thoughts to each of you individually, through this letter.

If I had the opportunity to greet each of you individually, this is what I would say:

Congratulations -- on being who you are, a unique human being capable of making a special contribution to our nation and the world. Congratulations on being fortunate enough to have parents and teachers and administrators who care deeply about you.

I don't have to tell you what the future holds for you. You know that life has responsibilities as well as rewards, failures as well as successes, tragedies as well as joys. You know that our nation offers splendid opportunity -- and faces grave problems.

On your commencement day, then, the important question is what you hold for the future. I am confident that your special and irreplaceable qualities of mind and heart and spirit will contribute to the building of a strong, free and just nation and a peaceful world. As you go forward you take with you my best wishes and highest hopes.

Cheerleaders Spread Spirit

The 1969-1970 Varsity Cheerleading Squad consisted of ten bright young girls. The senior members were Carol Auffrey, Captain; Sheila Rooney, Co-Captain; Linda Bragga, Mairi-Angela Dellecese, and Kim McChesney. Juniors Michele Abair, Donna Germain, Linda Queiros, Pam Roberge, and Cathy Smith rounded out the squad. Although handicapped by a full season of away football games, the girls nevertheless maintained school spirit by providing student buses to all the events. During the summer of 1969, the squad attended a seminar at the University of Connecticut. There, they learned new techniques, routines, and side-line cheers, which they put to use throughout the year.

The Junior Varsity Squad was talented and enthusiastic. They purchased new uniforms with the profits from their successful February dance.

The Ludlow High soccer team once again enjoyed an excellent season. The Lion squad won the Valley Wheel Crown as a result of a perfect record, 10-0. They entered the Western Massachusetts Tournament with only one loss, that coming at the hands of Chicopee. The young Lions defeated Bartlett 4-0, and then eliminated Classical 1-0. In the Western Mass. Finals, the "never quit" Lions, playing with a substitute goalie, lost to Chicopee, 5-3.

Although the squad did not include a great number of seniors, nevertheless, they played important roles in its leadership. Lou Texeira played extremely well all season in front of the nets as the Lion goalie. The defense was strong due to the efforts of two bustling men, George Goncalves and Ken McCarron, who broke up many an opponent's attempts to score. Jim Calheno served as both the offensive and defensive sparkplug for the team. Jim was named All-League and All-Western Mass. for the second straight year. Tony Salvador and Ken McCarron were also Wheel choices. The team sported some talented juniors and sophomores as well. Among them was fast Mario Pereira, also chosen as a member of the Western Mass. team.

Patullomen Hit The Road

All good teams have significant traits that are peculiar to them. When one speaks of the Ludlow Gridiron Lions, the immediate thought that comes to mind is aggressiveness. Aggressiveness, coupled with the fine coaching of Charles Patullo molded the Lions into formidable competitors. In their first two contests, Ludlow overwhelmed rival Minnechaug and East Longmeadow by scores of 28-8 and 20-0, respectively. However, the Lions became the victims of some damaging injuries, and the lack of a home field. A decimated team with the constant awareness of opposing fans saw their hopes of a championship fade away. The Lions were able to recover from a mid-season slump by mauling Trade 40-8 and routing the always-dangerous Palmer Panthers 20-0 on Thanksgiving.

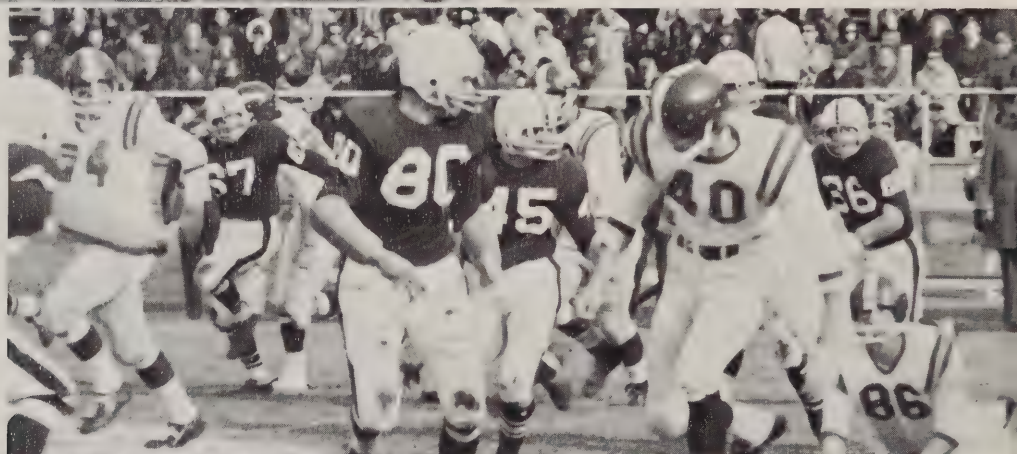

Coaches Cavallo and Patullo watch the action during the Thanksgiving Day game. Head Coach Patullo and his staff stimulated and encouraged players to perform to the peak of their abilities, producing a pride that brought forth a superior team effort.

Seals Have Fine Season

The girls' basketball team, under the direction of Miss Marianne Kook, completed the season with a record of five wins and seven losses. Initiative and good shooting from forwards Sue Marceau and Pat Sullivan, and excellent rebounding from guards Diane Goncalves, Sue Chenaille, and Joan Alves gave the girls a 55-54 win over a very tough South Hadley team. Jump shots were never a problem for the Seals with 5'11" Margaret Robinson at center. However, the girls did suffer disappointing losses to Monson and Ware.

The team, completing its third straight season with a rookie coach, has been met with much enthusiasm, and has drawn many interested fans.

Hoop Team Has Disappointing Season

Attempt after attempt . . . loss after loss . . . frustration after frustration. It seemed like an endless cycle for the 1969-70 Ludlow High Basketball team as their athletic efforts went unrewarded again and again. The record? It officially stands at two wins and sixteen losses, yet the ability of the team is not accurately represented by these statistics. The "going strong" Lions, in seven long games, could just go no further and lost sight of the game in the final minutes of play. The only victims of the Lions were Trade and East Longmeadow. The victory over Trade happily halted a twenty-two game losing streak. The very comfortable score of 77-66 excited the fans as well as the team.

However, when the season was coming to an end, just when the fans spirit started to sag, and just when it was most important, the Lions squeezed past tournament favorite St. Michael's in the Small Schools Tournament, 49-48. Yes, the fans were confident as the Lions gained an early 12-3 lead; they crossed their fingers when the score was tied and they held their breath as sophomore Ray Williamson whisked the winning basket through the hoop with thirty three seconds showing on the clock. From that moment, Ludlow supporters looked with apprehension to the semi-finals against Amherst.

It was bound to happen. The luck ran out on the determined Lions and they dropped a heartbreaking contest to the Amherst Hurricanes, 68-59. This closed a long season for a team that could only look to a hopefully brighter future.

Gloves, pads, skates, sticks, and pucks. Together, or even separately, they are nothing but dust collectors. Yet when the Ludlow Lions donned this equipment, they became a hockey team, our hockey team. They skated, fought, and sometimes bullied their way through the season, finishing with a record of six wins, eleven losses and one tie.

Many a cold front did halt the Lions' attempt to secure the Berry Division lead. Although they won but six times, they played hockey, the kind of spurring, hectic hockey the fans loved, wanted, and waited for.

The muffled sound of the puck sliding into the Ludlow nets fortunately was not heard as much as it might have been. Mike Murty, the goalie, skillfully stopped the opponents' shots many times.

Coach Richard Malek strategically employed the Lion defense. Joe Dias, Bob Howe, Neil Paquette and John

Jorge knew teamwork was the name of the game and they used it well. They were especially adept in three areas: blocking opponents' shots, breaking up their charges, and leading some offensive rushes for Ludlow.

Who was it though that had the most opportunity to slide a goal into the other net? The Lion offense. It consisted of Marshall Robar centering Jay Costa and Rick Bissailion. Ron Prokop, Mike Yelinek, and Art Bailey were the second liners. These were the players that tried like pros to score as much as possible. They were the players that were angry when they missed, proud when they scored.

There it is. The goalie, the defense, and the offense. They played hockey as if their well-being depended on it, and the fans depended on them.

Behind The Scenes . . .

OFFENSE — This combination of players tallied many of the Ludlow goals. Their blazing slap-shots and fine stick control dominated a good deal of play. J. Costa, M. Robar, R. Bissailion.

DEFENSE — These Lions proved to be excellent defensemen, stopping most shots before they reached the goalie. All were starters displaying some very quick skating. J. Dias, B. Howe, J. Jorge, N. Paquette.

Armed with shiny golf clubs, considerable talent, and a measure of confidence, the Ludlow High golf team forced their way to a striking record of eleven wins and four losses. Throughout the season the fairway was covered with the skillful strokes of Captain Paul Kawecki and team members Mike Rodio, Dan Orlik, Dave Mash, Paul Mondry, and Mark Frydryk.

After accepting an invitation to the Western Massachusetts Tournament, the team finished in sixth place.

The individual tournament however, was won by Paul Kawecki, whose masterful strokes yielded him a score of 70 for the first round. Wyantenuck Country Club though, was the place where Paul really proved his prowess as he secured a respectable fifth place in state-wide competition.

It certainly does look like Coach Richard Malek, his golfers, and their clubs did brilliantly blaze many a tee in 1970.

1970 GOLF TEAM –

Captain Paul Kawecki has been the team's most consistent golfer for the past two seasons. This year he represented Ludlow in the Western Mass. Invitation Tournament, which he won by three strokes. Paul seldom scored higher than 80 and he has to his credit a fine 67. In the state finals, Kawecki shot a 70 and a 78 to place fifth in Massachusetts.

Trackmen Experience Strong Season

Running . . . jumping . . . throwing the discus . . . hurling the javelin . . . tying records . . . setting new ones, all part of a sport called track, all very important to the members of the Ludlow High track team. The merging of their individual talents led them to a 3 and 6 record for the 1970 season. Palmer felt the Lions' strength the most as they joined Trade and Southwick as the Ludlow victims.

The 118 points scored through the season by John Zilch set a new record. More top-scorers were Rich Roberts, Walt Lazarz, Bob Miller, Al Narbonne, and Rich Bergeron. First in charge of the team were Coaches Mr. Joseph Szlosek and Mr. Robert Trayhan.

Second in command were the team's captains, Bill Nowak, Bob Miller, and Rich Roberts.

The Valley Wheel Championships provided the perfect opportunity for the relay team of Bergeron, Zilch, Lazarz, and Fontaine to turn in their best performance of the season. High-jumper John Zilch bounded his way into fifth place. The power of Rich Bergeron was proven by his occupation of first place in Western Massachusetts discus competition. Under rainy skies at the state finals, however he failed to place.

So there they are. Our runners, our jumpers, our hurlers . . . our track team, 1970.

Ludlow Nine Slump In Valley Wheel

The 1970 baseball season. What is an appropriate description for it? Mediocre? Disappointing? Bad? Whatever it may be, it cannot be too severe. After all, the pitching was good, really good, even better than was expected. The hitting turned out to be the problem. Power hitters failed to find the groove and could not produce even a single home run. The Lions' usual hot bat hardly warmed up this season as the team's average totaled only .243. In 535 at-bats, the boys could only come up with 23 extra-base hits, and brought just 79 runs across the plate.

The activity in the field proved to be just as disastrous as it was at the plate. The Lions committed a total of 55 errors, an average of 2.74 per game.

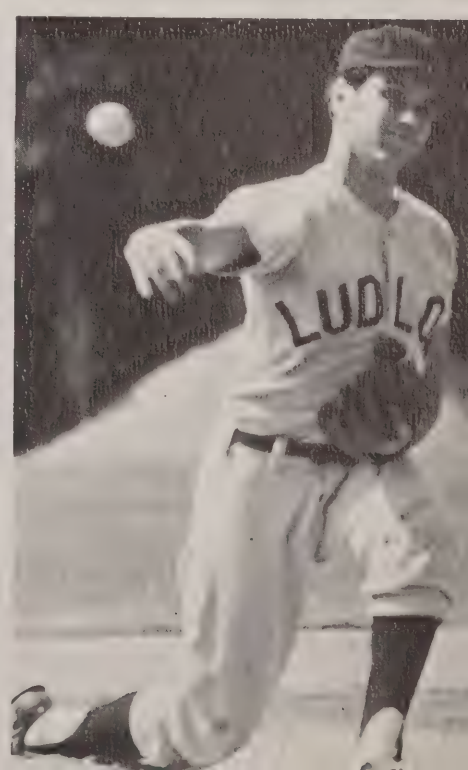

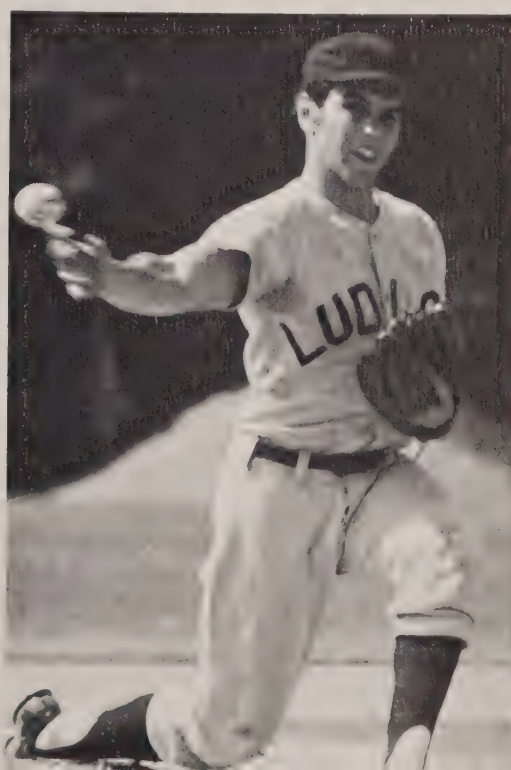

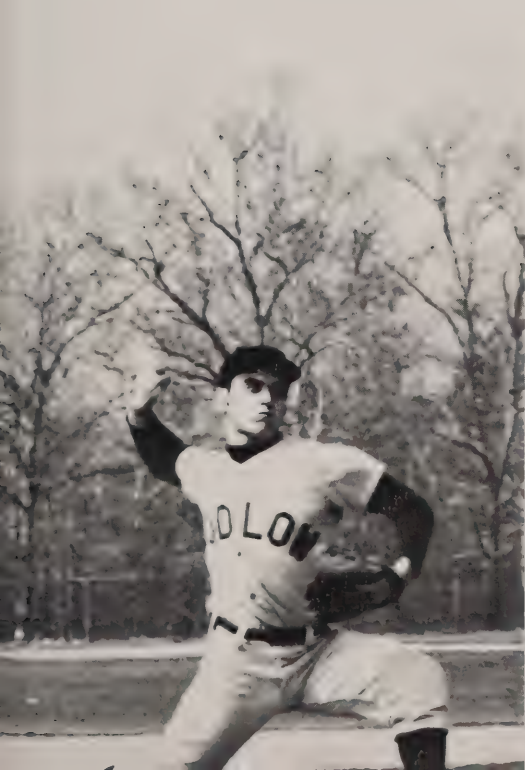

Ludlow was 6 and 8 in league play and only 8 and 12 in overall action which indicates something was wrong somewhere, especially after they were predicted to take first place in the Valley Wheel. Whatever the problem was, it is certain that Coach Mullins does not want to see it again. Ever.

The big surprise this year was the Lion pitching; it was the only thing that stood up. Hurlers Joe Alves, Gary Allen, and Alan Wadas came up with some strong performances to keep the team winning. Junior John Jorge (BELOW) however, took over the number one position. He tossed a three hitter against Agawam, collected two of the three hits and drove in the only run. Also to his credit is a two hit game against Easthampton in which he struck out nine men in seven innings.

Rick Mazur displays his technique of sliding against Minnechaug. Ludlow triumphed, 5-2.

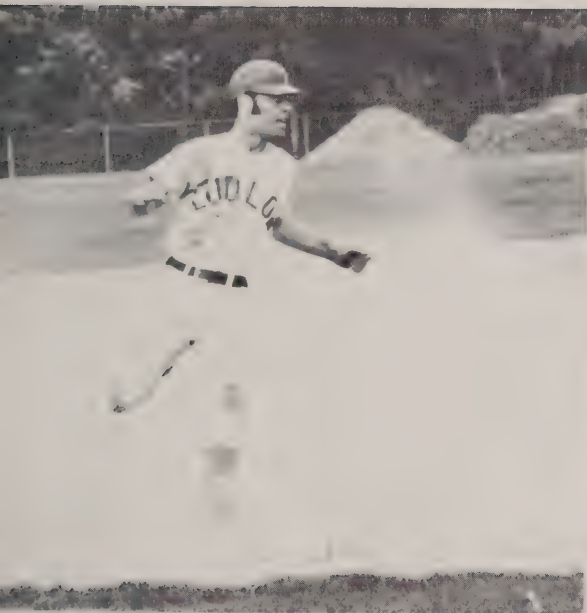

Lloyd Askew led the team this year in batting with a sound .310 average. Due to his good fielding, he was constantly switched from the outfield to the infield.

Jim Tetreault, three year veteran, became a good lead-off man this season, collecting 16 hits and 12 walks. He also led the team with most runs scored with 14. Tetreault batted .288.

Joe Lavoie crosses third.

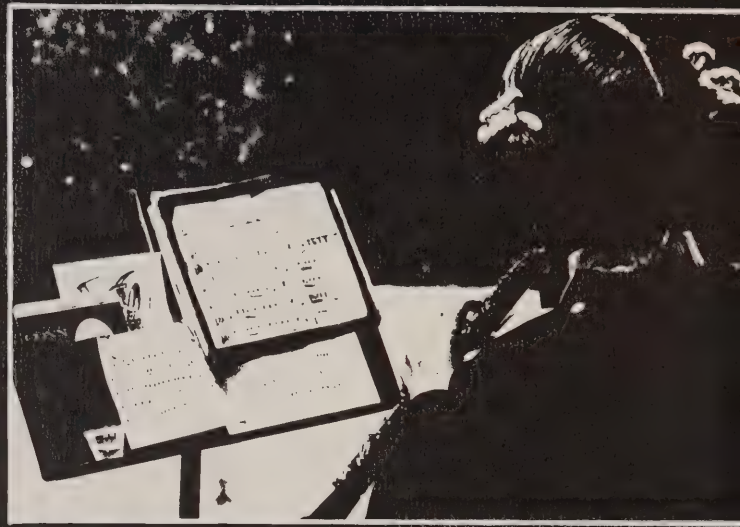

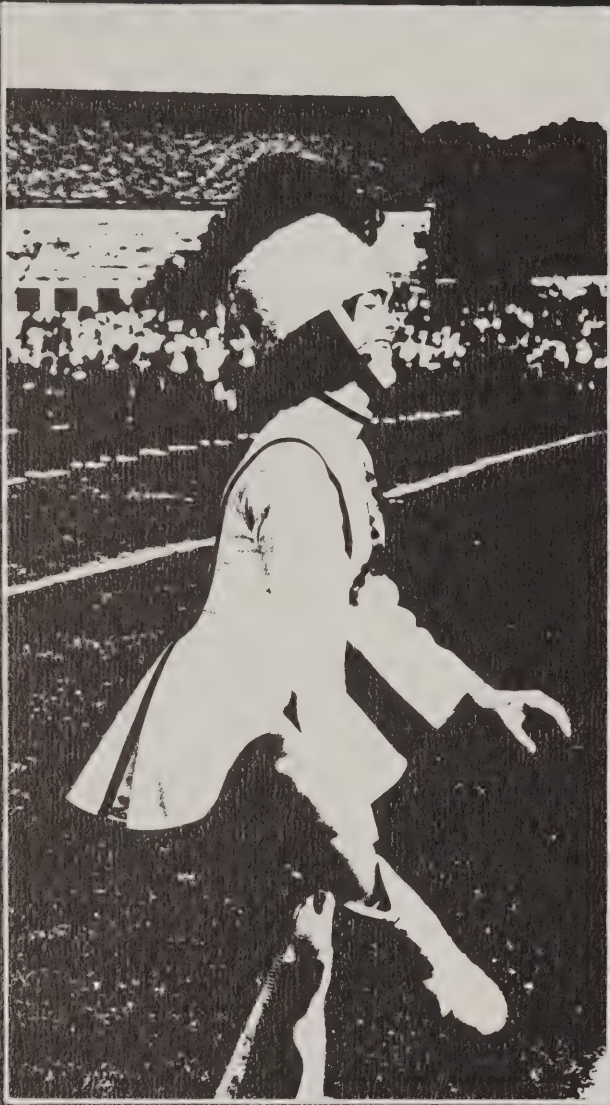

Dale Ranck surprised Coach Mullins with a .302 batting average including three triples. He was, however plagued with many injuries and some erratic fielding.

Music Department Sponsors Activities

The Ludlow High Music Department sponsored several activities, benefiting both students and the general public.

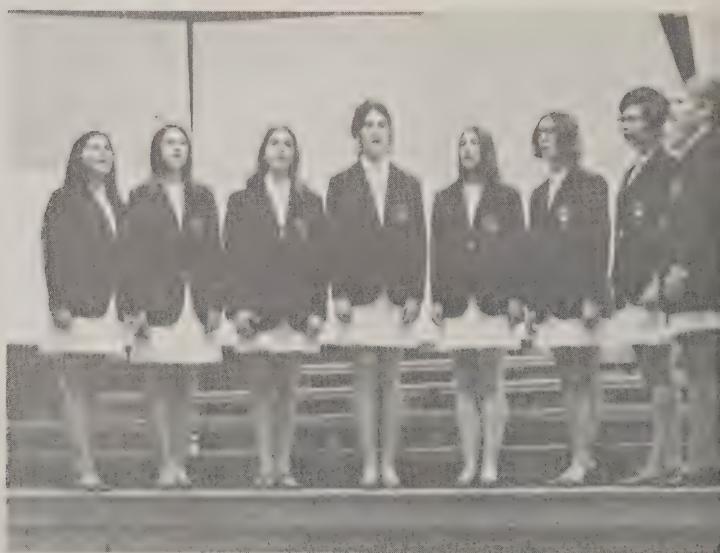

Members of the band attended a series of music clinics, which provided them with information about performance techniques, and the science of the instrument. The first was conducted by Professor Walter Chestnut from the University of Massachusetts, dealing with the brass instruments of the band. The second was a percussion clinic, held in conjunction with the UMass Symphony Band Clinic and Concert, and under the direction of Dr. Peter Tanner. The third, a woodwind clinic, was conducted by Mr. Robert Lowery from the Conn Corporation.

On March 26, the University of Massachusetts Symphony Band came to Ludlow, sponsored by the Ludlow Music Society. The program began with an afternoon performance clinic for the Ludlow band, under the excellent direction of Professors John Jenkins, Conductor, and Lawrence Weed, Assistant Conductor. The Student Union contributed a tour with the use of slides of the University, and conducting a question-and-answer period for prospective students. In the afternoon and evening, the Symphony Band performed a concert for an audience of students and townspeople. Mr. Royce Layman, director of the Ludlow High Band, was guest conductor for "Three Revolutionary Marches" by Smetana.

The 1970 Western Massachusetts Choral Music Festival was held at Ludlow on May 16. Twenty-three choral groups from area schools participated in the all-day gathering, and were adjudicated by instructors from area colleges and public school systems. Groups were judged on appearance, performance techniques, and ability to grasp the mood of the music. The three Ludlow High Choruses, and three Elementary Choruses took part in the festival.

Among the many groups performing at the Western Mass. Choral Festival at Ludlow was the South Hadley High Girls Triple Trio.

Mr. Royce Layman, Ludlow band director, was guest conductor at the evening concert of the UMass band.

Band Captures Award In First Competition

The Ludlow High School Band got off to a good start this year when it participated in the annual Foliage Festival Parade in North Adams. In its first competitive performance since its reorganization three years ago, the band marched along a two-and-one-half mile route, and was judged on its execution of marching techniques, musical ability, and other details. The Ludlow band was rated sixth out of seventeen participating bands from New England and Canada, and was awarded a plaque.

Band members began preparation for their active year a week before school began. Attending a three-hour daily practice, they engaged in vigorous calisthenics and marching maneuvers. Stress was placed on both individual and unit performance.

The band took part in many activities. It performed eight half-time shows during the football season, and made two appearances at UMass for the Small Schools

Basketball Tournament to cheer the Ludlow Lions on to victory. It combined with the Ludlow choral groups for the annual Christmas Concert, and then immediately began preparations for its Spring Concert. It participated in the Ludlow Memorial Day Parade and ceremonies. For the first time, the Band was invited to the State Polish Convention Parade in Indian Orchard and received a verbal citation for being the best band. Finally, it played for Class Day, Senior Assembly, and Graduation Exercises of the Class of 1970.

The band contained fifty-four playing members, six majorettes, and five colorguards. Officers for the year were Co-Presidents James Bubien and Toni Mendes, Vice-President and Equipment Manager Richard Methot, Secretary-Treasurer Bonnie Williams, Librarian Karen Barch, Head Majorette Dorerline Person, and Drum Major Robert Meyer.

The Ludlow High Chorale, a select group of twenty-two voices, under the direction of Mr. Gregory Wrinn, once again performed an excellent annual series of concerts. It began its season with the Thanksgiving Assembly, in which it offered some light, entertaining numbers along with the usual stately hymns and anthems of the season. At Christmas, the Chorale was featured in both the afternoon assembly and the evening concert, adding new freshness and excitement to some traditional carols. On Wednesday of Holy Week, the group accepted the invitation to take part in the Noonday Service at Springfield's Old First Church, and presented a beautifully blended, ethereal "Sanctus" by Palestrina as the offertory hymn. Opening the Spring Choral Concert on May 15, the Chorale proved its versatility by presenting a well-rounded program with many distinct styles, from the Italian madrigal "So Well I Know Who's Happy" by Vecchi, to the modern "O My Dove" by Montgomery, and the expressive and emotional "In the Silent Night" by Rachmanninoff-Treharne. Finally, the next morning, the Chorale participated in the Western Massachusetts Choral Music Festival, and received excellent ratings.

The Girls' Chorus also had a fine season, and its members displayed a boundless enthusiasm and firm grasp of musical style, overshadowing performances of previous years. Participating in the Christmas Concert, wearing their usual outfits of white blouses, dark skirts, and red scarves, the chorus offered two foreign carols, "Carol of the Birds" and "A La Nanita Nana" along with the favorite "Do You Hear What I Hear?" Tradition was broken this spring, when the group appeared at the annual Spring Choral Concert dressed in powder-blue maxi-skirts and white ruffled blouses. Adding to their new look, the girls presented an interesting program, including "Scarborough Fair" and J. S. Bach's "We Hasten With Eager, Yet Faltering Footsteps." The group also participated in the Music Festival, receiving top ratings for their fine performance.

New Concert Choir Begins With

In its first year as a choral group, the sixty-voice Concert Choir has already built up a reputation as an outstanding chorus. Replacing the Mixed Chorus, the Choir, under the direction of Mr. Gregory Wrinn, is the first choral music performance class established at Ludlow High, and is open to both morning and afternoon students, by audition. Meeting daily, the Choir not only rehearses for its performances, but studies various musical forms and styles, and the proper techniques of vocal production.

Beginning its performance season, the Concert Choir dominated the Thanksgiving Assembly with hymns of thanks and patriotic feeling, including "My Shepherd Will Supply My Need," based on the twenty-third psalm, and "America the Beautiful," with contralto soloist Gloria Mucaria.

A moving program was offered to the public at the Christmas Concert, held on the evening of December 23. At eight o'clock, a procession of Choir members in black robes, moved in single file onto the risers, chanting "Hodie, Christus Natus Est." Accompanied by Mrs. Alice Terlanday Norton, a harpist who graduated from the Liszt Conservatory in Hungary, the group then burst into the joyous, spiritual, and sometimes mysterious "Ceremony of Carols" by Benjamin Britten. The "Ceremony," a series of medieval religious poems set to music, has become extremely popular in recent years, but had never been performed in Ludlow before. Gloria Mucaria was the featured soloist on the lullaby, "That Yonge Child." At the end of the evening's combined vocal and instrumental program, the Choir and Band combined to perform "Behold a Star From Jacob Shining" by Felix Mendelssohn.

Following the success of that difficult program, the Choir members immediately began preparations for the Spring Concert and Choral Festival to be held in May. Planning a program that appealed to all tastes in music, Mr. Wrinn drew from many musical styles and compiled a repertoire of great depth. On the evening of May 15, the last half of the Spring Choral Concert was devoted to the Concert Choir. Beginning with the "Sanctus" from Palestrina's Missa Brevis, the Choir performed a wealth of religious and secular numbers, including "Lacrymosa" from Mozart's Requiem, the American Folk Song Suite, "My True Love Hath My Heart," a madrigal by Berger, and "Ain't That Good News," a spiritual by Dawson. Highlights of the performance were Bernstein's Chichester Psalms, with soloist Mark Douville (76) as the boy soprano. The Psalms were handled expertly, with an emotional impact not often felt in high school groups. The womens' chorus lent a peaceful air with its quiet, intermingling harmonies, the mens' chorus handled the difficult Hebrew chant with contained excitement, and Mark's solo was pure and innocent, a beautiful interpretation of David the Shepherd. A breathtaking and deeply moving performance of the avant-garde "Funeral March On the Death of Heroes" by McElheran followed, a tribute to our fallen countrymen. Based on the "music" of tonal clusters, the Choir chanted the names of war dead, and then built up to a climax of "Suffer . . . Duty . . . Honor . . . Freedom." The following morning, judges at the Western Massachusetts Music Festival gave the Ludlow Concert Choir the highest possible ratings.

At its final, and probably most meaningful performance, the Concert Choir, with its senior members in their caps and gowns, combined with the band for the powerful and enlightening "Onward, Ye People!" by Sibelius, at the 1970 Graduation Exercises. Then, in the traditional "The Lord Bless You and Keep You," the Choir bid a farewell to the seniors, and ended a year of excellence.

Seven Ludlow students were selected to participate in the annual Massachusetts All-State Concert held at the Waltham High School, April 1-April 4. In order to qualify for the state competition, one must first have a recommendation from the judges at the district level auditions, and then, the student must proceed to the state auditions for another rating. Those students passing the second audition are chosen to participate in the intensive rehearsals and two concerts. The program, consisting of choral band, and orchestral groups, is sponsored by the Massachusetts Music Educators Association.

District And All-State Musicians

The largest group ever chosen to represent Ludlow High at the Western Massachusetts District Concert took part in the January 17 event at Holyoke High School. The music students, competing against others from area schools, auditioned at Northampton High in the fall. On the basis of musicianship, intonation, technique, and overall performance, the highest-rating students were selected, and brought together to perform in the groups known as the Western Massachusetts District Chorus, Band, and Orchestra. This activity is sponsored by the Massachusetts Music Educators Association.

JCL Turns Ludlow Into Home Of The "Northeast Latinum Forum"

The Junior Classical League, begun in 1968 by Mr. Charles Bradshaw and approximately thirty Latin students, has more than doubled its enrollment to include over seventy members with or without Latin background in its second year of existence.

This membership increase is impressive enough without itemizing the group's many accomplishments. But its achievements in so short a space of time show the vast capabilities of such a group, not dedicated only to the preservation of our Latin heritage, but also to its use as a medium to promote the peace, understanding, and cooperation our world so desperately needs.

Ludlow High has become the home office of the Latin newspaper, "The Northeast Latinum Forum," an interschool paper serving fourteen schools in the northeastern United States. Articles from all schools are received, processed, packed, and shipped. The publication contains thoughts, discoveries, ideas, formulations, jokes and other Latinized academia, and promotes a healthy exchange of discussion.

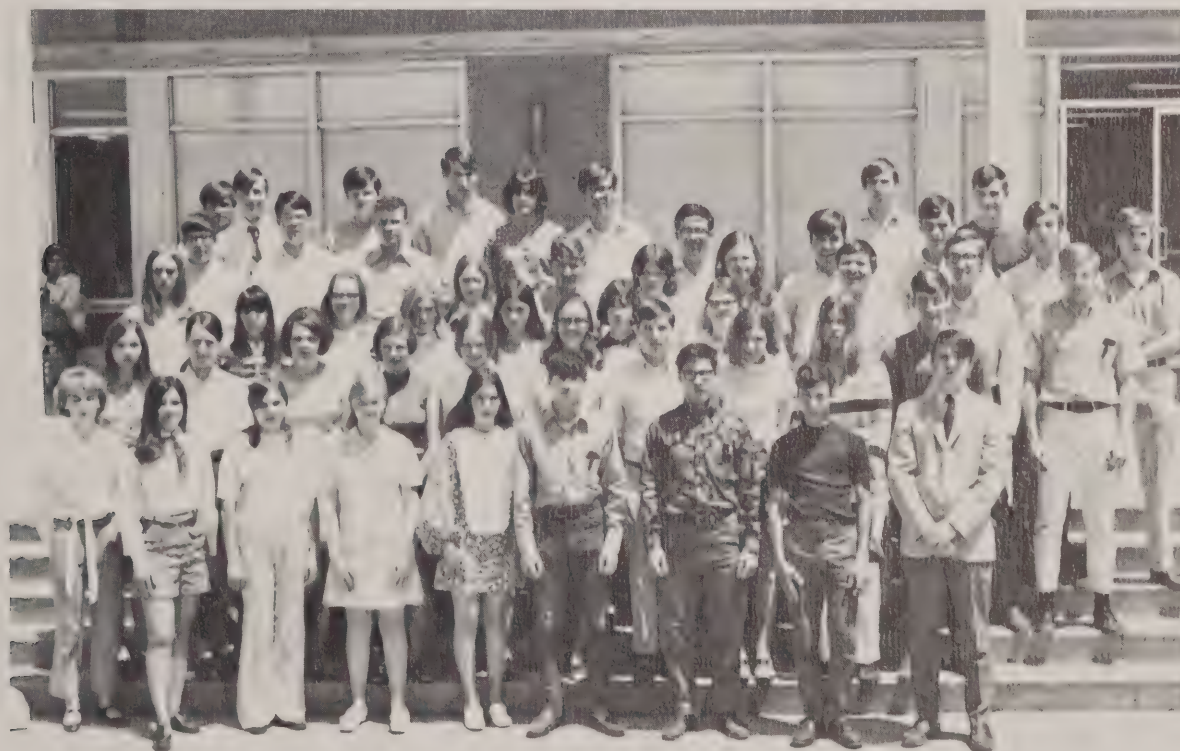

In order to show our servicemen overseas that their sacrifices are appreciated and remembered, the group embarked on a good will project during the Christmas season. Sending personalized Christmas cards to service men in all branches of our Armed Forces was a small help in the alleviation of the depression of many forgotten soldiers, but it brought much true holiday spirit to those on both sides of the world.

Perhaps the League's impact upon the student body is most felt at its annual assembly program. This year, its theme was "Bridge Over Troubled Waters" and the message that it stated was realized by everyone in the audience. In fact, the program personally involved each person present, and the emotional effect will not soon be forgotten.

The League went on two field trips. The first was to Holy Cross College in Worcester, where the members attended a Latin convention and banquet. The second was an outing to Fenway Park in Boston to see the Red Sox play the White Sox. Following the game, they attended a banquet where an old-fashioned sing-along highlighted the evening.

The Junior Classical League has become an established part of Ludlow High, and its annual assembly has already become a much anticipated tradition. It has been a fine year for a spirited group.

JCL Helps Build Bridge Over Troubled Waters

The Junior Classical League members felt they had a job to do — a message to relay — if not to the whole world, then at least to their fellow students. And so, they devised a recipe. We call it "The Message."

The ingredients were not too complex. The main one, the theme of the assembly, was borrowed from Simon and Garfunkel's hit song, "Bridge Over Troubled Waters." Into that was blended a huge collage designed to convey the flood warnings of life's troubled waters. Next, a visitor from the past joined the batter. He sought to soothe the seriousness of the times by offering his experiences and conjectures as stumbling blocks to be avoided. A few poignant songs were scattered here and there, emitting feelings of sadness, patriotism, and most of all, love. Finally, this was topped with movies and slides of the students and teachers of Ludlow High, individuals who could come together.

This recipe was baked in the Ludlow High Auditorium on April 17, as one thousand people watched, felt, loved. When the assembly was through, "The Message" was accomplished.

Just what was "The Message"? The answer is simple. It is not that each person can help build a bridge over the troubled waters. It is rather that everyone, every human being on this earth can himself be such a bridge. If only he would try.

Steve Wadas acts as a guide through the maze of these troubled times.

The JCL Singers do their arrangements of "The Boxer" and "Simple Song of Freedom."

"THE DEATH and LIFE of LARRY BENSON"

Ludlow High School's Theater Arts performance of "The Death and Life of Larry Benson" was a far cry from the dry, unexciting "culture" most students know. The troupe introduced to the stage a moving drama with superb realism and the finest of acting. Begun under the direction of Mr. Stuart Lavin, and later taken over by Mr. William Podoski, the cast and crew spent months of rehearsals, exploring in depth the personality of each character. The result was obvious: a successful presentation of some difficulty situations relevant to the present society.

The play centers around Larry Benson, reported missing in action in Vietnam three years previously. Suddenly, his parents, who had long ago lost hope, receive a telegram from the boy, saying that he's coming home. Little does he know that in the three years he was away, his parents have separated, and his girlfriend Grace has become engaged to his best friend. But his shock is small in comparison to that of his parents when the boy that comes home to them, and knows every detail of Larry Benson's life, is not their son.

The play, performed on March 6 and 7, attracted a good-sized audience. The troupe donated several hundred dollars of their proceeds to the Ludlow Youth Commission.

THE HOMECOMING: The Benson family is shocked to find a stranger at the door instead of their son Larry.

"Larry" and his sister Jessie discuss the problems of the family.

Neighbor Nettie Clark exhibits her talent for saying the wrong things at the wrong time.

Art Department Prepares Two Exhibitions

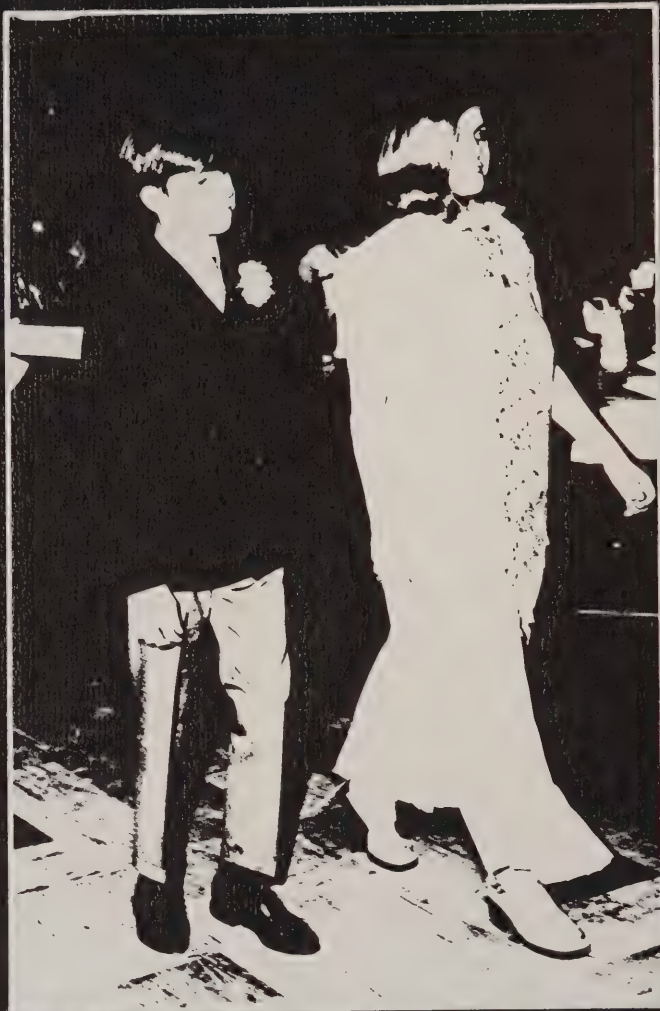

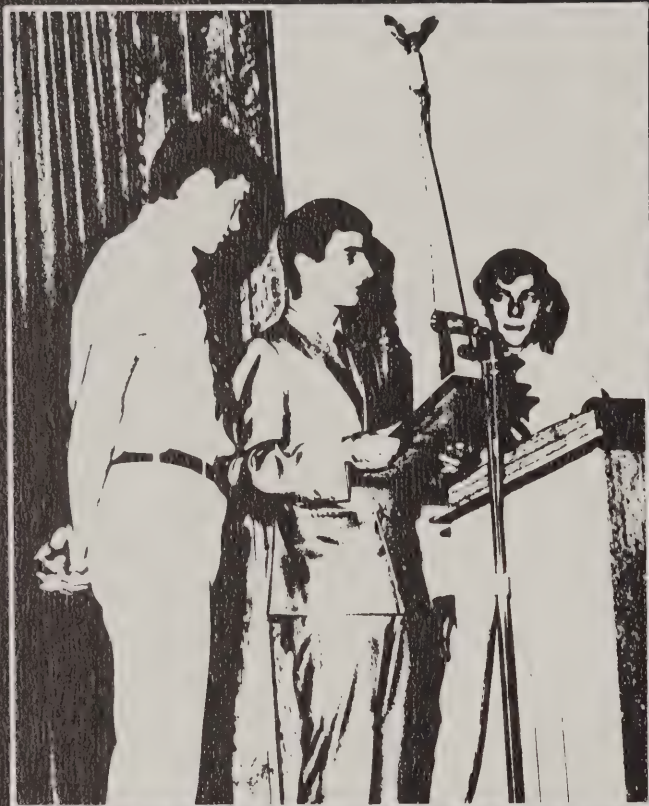

Art students of the morning session, under the guidance of Mr. Bernard Burns, prepared two exhibitions this year, opened to the general public. Coinciding with the two major music events of the year — the Christmas Concert and the Western Massachusetts Choral Festival — the exhibitions drew many interested visitors. Among the many art forms displayed were papier-mâché figures, tapestries, ceramics, and watercolors. The Departments of Art and Music, by these joint efforts, created a total cultural experience for both the students of Ludlow High and the townspeople.

This fireman shows exactly what the football team has in mind: LIQUIDATE SOUTH HADLEY!!!

October the tenth was chosen as the official date for "Launching the Lions." This was done by the senior class with the aid of the marching band and cheerleaders. As an extra treat, the "Ludlow Lion" made a stellar appearance as to boost the school's spirit even higher.

Booster Day is an old tradition and its purpose is to have the entire student body appear as a group and root at the morning soccer game and the afternoon football game. This year it was thought by the Senior class and cheerleaders that school spirit at L.H.S. was ebbing. Although many methods to raise our school spirit were tried, the two groups decided to go "all out" and have the best Booster Day in the school's history.

Coach Patullo gave a stirring speech on his plays and players. The L.H.S. band provided several marches but the best was the "Death March." Leading the way was our Lion who later threw into the bonfire an effigy of the South Hadley team. With this done, everyone went into the gym to groove to the sounds of the Tyr and anticipate victory.

Hi-Y's Spotlight Beams On Local Talent . . .

Once again the Hi-Y organization unleashed the talents of L.H.S. students and staged an unforgettable show on the night of November 21. Under the brilliant guidance of Mr. William Kolodziey, "Our World and Welcome To It" was a sparkling combination of talent and comedy.

"Our World and Welcome To It" was a foray in which the audience could see the world through the eyes of the group. Thanks to the capability of the two masters of ceremonies Rick Bellucci and Bob Provost, the trip was an enjoyable one. The acts showed originality and maybe a future star in the world of show business.

At the conclusion of the show, prizes were given to the three best acts. First prize went to Tom Abdown for his singing of Arlo Guthrie's award-winning song, "Alice's Restaurant." Paul Nunes easily took second prize with an original composition entitled, "Joan's Tree." Third place was awarded to Diane Neill for a pleasantly done version of "Banks of the Ohio."

Carol Auffrey Crowned Miss Victory 1969

On the evening of November 21, Miss Victory 1969 was crowned by the out-going queen, Miss Sheila Rooney. The entire student body voted during the school day and was eagerly awaiting the outcome that was to be announced at the end of the Hi-Y show, "Our World and Welcome To It."

Miss Victory represents the school at the traditional Thanksgiving Day football game between Palmer and Ludlow High School. She is chosen on scholastic performance, her outward appearance, and general school spirit. Keeping the morale of the various Ludlow teams up and making appearances throughout the year at school functions are her duties.

So it was no wonder that everyone was delighted when Mr. William Kolodziey, the club's advisor, announced that Miss Carol Auffrey was chosen Miss Victory 1969.

Jim Calheno laughingly looks on as Carol Auffrey realizes she has won.

Miss Victory and her court are: Linda Queiros, Cathy Smith, Carol Auffrey, Chris Nowak, and Kim McChesney.

Service Is Hi-Y Organization's Purpose

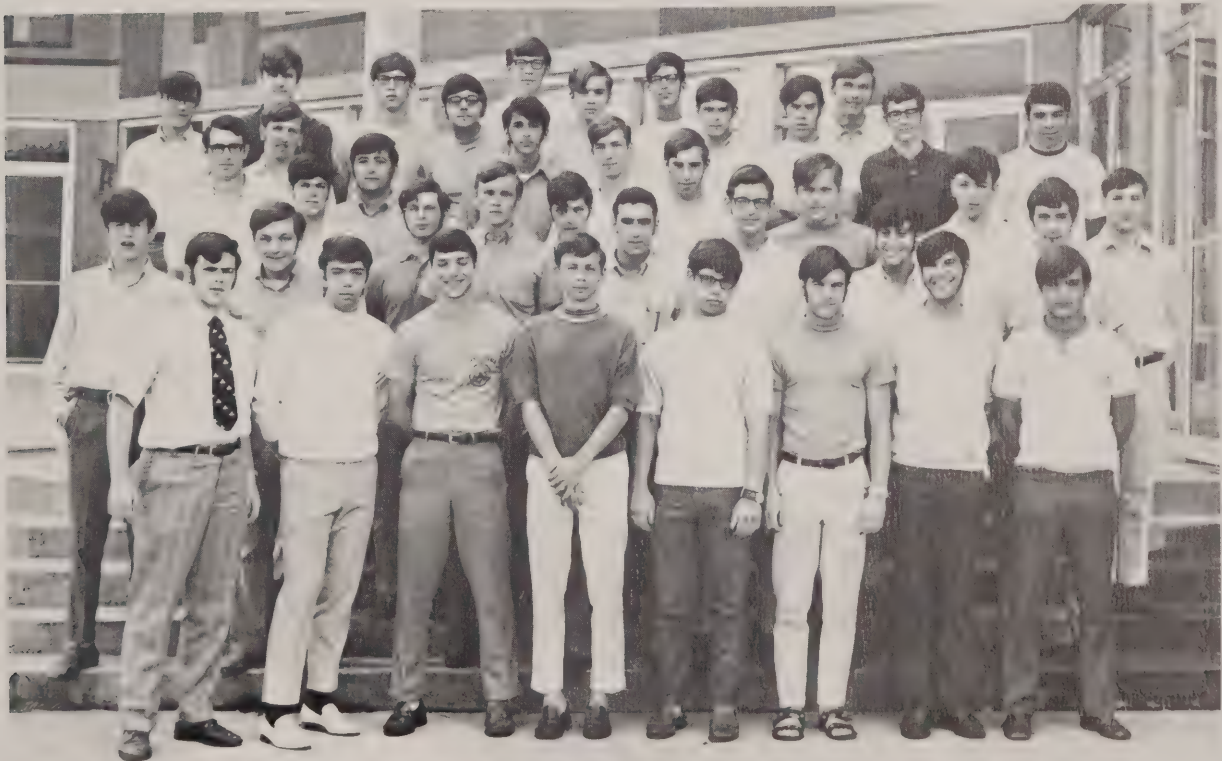

One of the better known service groups in the high school is the Hi-Y Organization. Together with their advisor, Mr. William Kolodziey, this group stages various programs throughout the year in aiding the school, the town, and the local townspeople.

In November President Rick Bellucci asked the student body to bring in canned food stuffs so that the Hi-Y could again pass out Thanksgiving Day Baskets to the more unfortunate families in Ludlow. Also, the group began to plan its Thanksgiving talent show, "Our World and Welcome To It," and the Miss Victory contest.

Once again during the spring this organization raised money for the Jimmy Fund by staging a "triple bill" of basketball games. Due to the hard work of Vice-President Ken McCarron, Treasurer Mark Moutinho, and Sergeant-at-Arms Bob Provost, this triple bill of entertainment was a huge success.

Never was there such a "Wonderland by Night" as the one held on the night of December 12th. This year's theme, as chosen by the decorations committee and it's chairman, Sharon Sousa, changed the gym into a fantasy world of Christmas trees, gaily wrapped gifts, and even a representative from the North Pole.

General chairman Michelle Abair had the task of co-ordinating her fellow chairmen who were: Refreshments, Cynthia Pikul; Publicity, Marybeth Shepard; Tickets, Robert Miller; and Clean-up, David Stanuch. These able people did a tremendous job in getting the "Armeggedon" to supply musical vibrations.

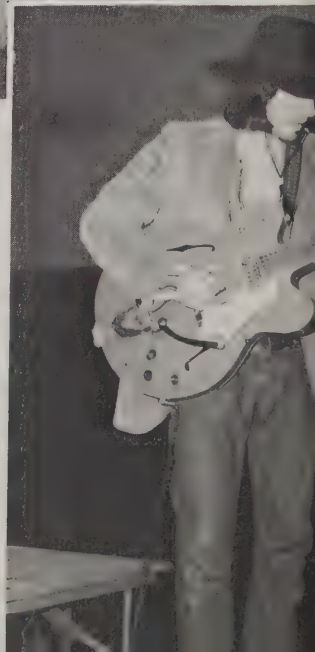

Chairmen Sharon Sousa, Cindy Pikul, Bob Miller, and Michelle Abair carefully check the planbook.

Frosh Off To A Flying Start

Horoscopes, pictures of the various astrological figures, and constellations of stars were commonplace happenings for the freshman class on the bewitching night of February sixth. Indeed, the cafeteria, where the mystical extravaganza took place, was really a fortune-teller's heaven.

The decorations were fantastic, but the attention-getter was a wall map listing the sun signs and respective character traits. Our freshmen wandered about trying to find out if they were compatible with their friends, but most of all, with their class advisors, Miss Jan Volkmor and Mr. David Larrivee. Under their guidance, the class gave a wonderful dance.

Playing the music of the future was the "Lead Wate." Vibrations were soaring out of sight as the Class of '73 proved to everyone that "The Coming of the Zodiac" was the start of something big for them.

Freshmen spent the evening grooving to the sounds of the "Lead Wate."

Refreshments were a welcome sight when the class took a break from their dancing.

J.V. Dance Sparks A Good Response

As a means of raising revenue for a summer stay at a cheerleaders' camp, the J.V. cheerleaders sponsored "The Lions' Den" on February 27th in the gym. This was the cheerleaders' first attempt at organizing a social event, but with some gentle guiding from their advisor, Mrs. Ashe, they came through with flying colors. Also these determined girls managed to get the well-known Rave to play at the dance. As a result of this dance, the J.V. squad of cheerleaders showed that they have the makings of a fine Varsity squad in the years to come.

Dancing to the fantastic sound of the Rave was a pleasure.

That night some people made beautiful music together.

Ronnie Conti and Karen Bruhn are certainly in step!

"Are you positive the Eskimos do it like this?" Barbara Stadnicki asks Dale Ranck.

All In A Night's Work . . .

Ludlow High School's gym rocked with laughter on April 3rd as the school featured a triple bill with various basketball "stars" playing.

The first game saw the Ludlow Varsity team pitted against past Ludlow basketball greats. It was really a match of champions, for both teams would make outstanding plays and the spectator usually found himself in a dilemma trying to figure out who to root for. In the end though, the Alumni pulled ahead for the victory.

Following that, the Girls' Varsity Basketball team took on the Hi-Y senior members. The boys, being the gentlemen they are, agreed to wear boxing gloves on their shooting hands and "flippers" on their feet. Naturally with these handicaps, plus a few feminine wiles, the girls won.

But the main attraction was the game which matched the teachers from the senior high against their junior high counterparts. The gym literally exploded with cheers for their favorite and not-so-favorite teachers, and when it was all over the board read in favor of the senior high teachers.

Comparing their dinners are Judy Bliss and Gail Bordeaux.

A song of love, Carmina Amoris, was the Sophomore dinner dance held on April seventeenth. The catered dinner was held in the cafeteria, where amid Romanesque decorations the class ate a sumtious meal. When their appetites were appeased, the couples went to the gym to dance to the fantastic music of "TYR."

Once there, the class was amazed to see how romantic a gym could be, for the place was transformed into a summer garden straight from ancient Rome.

Indeed, Carmina Amoris was a success, for a song of love did exist that night.

The boys dug in, and for some this was their third helping!

Shoes often proved to be uncomfortable, so off they came!

"The Look Of The Seventies" — Spring Fashion Show A Stylish Success

Among the usually unrecognized talents in Ludlow High are the sewing and styling abilities of the girls in the Home Economics Classes. A few years ago, it was decided to display some of the beautiful clothes these girls have made. Ever since then, they have held an annual fashion show. This year's show, held on May, featured the latest fashions in sportswear, including culottes and pant dresses. Highlights of the evening show included a pantsuit with a tunic-dress top, and two girls being escorted in the formal evening wear they created. It was a time for all the girls to take their bows in the beautiful clothes they made themselves!

A sophisticated evening look was presented with models Sheila Zielenski and Veronica Socha being escorted by Bob Gilrein and Tom Gonyea.

Faculty advisors who made the program possible are Mrs. Constance Trella, Mrs. Miriam Patullo, and Mrs. Rae Stack.

"Reve D'Été Unfolds Like A Midsummer Night's Dream

With only hours left, artistic members of the Junior class were hard at work, decorating the gym for the Prom. They built water fountains, French cafés and gardens. They even built their own Eiffel Tower!

The big night was finally here! On Friday night, June 5th, "Rêve D'Ete" unfolded to reveal an eternal enchantment. As couples entered the room, they were further enhanced by the beautiful music of Ronnie Drumm and his orchestra. Some couples enjoyed the music by dancing while others walked around and still others sat and talked at the café-type tables. Upon entering, each couple was given a favor to share. The top part came off to serve as a tie tack for the boy and the bottom part as a charm for the girl.

At last, the moment everyone was waiting for had come. It was time for the Grand March and the choosing of the queen. Kim McChesney, escorted by her beau, Ron Cabey, was crowned queen for the evening. After all that excitement, couples started leaving for quiet restaurants, where they could enjoy a wonderful meal before an unbelievable evening came to an end.

Stimulation of conditions as they exist in an American legislature is the function of the Model Congress. Mr. Leonard Charest is an active and capable advisor for this group of government — interested L.H.S. students. These students, along with other students from area high schools, meet and submit bills that they have worked on. Later, they discuss and amend them in committees and debate on the floors of a Senate and House of Representatives, where a final vote is taken.

This program provides experience in legislative processes and serves as an appropriate complement to the high school social studies curriculum.

Student Council Revises Dress Code; Provides A Communication Link

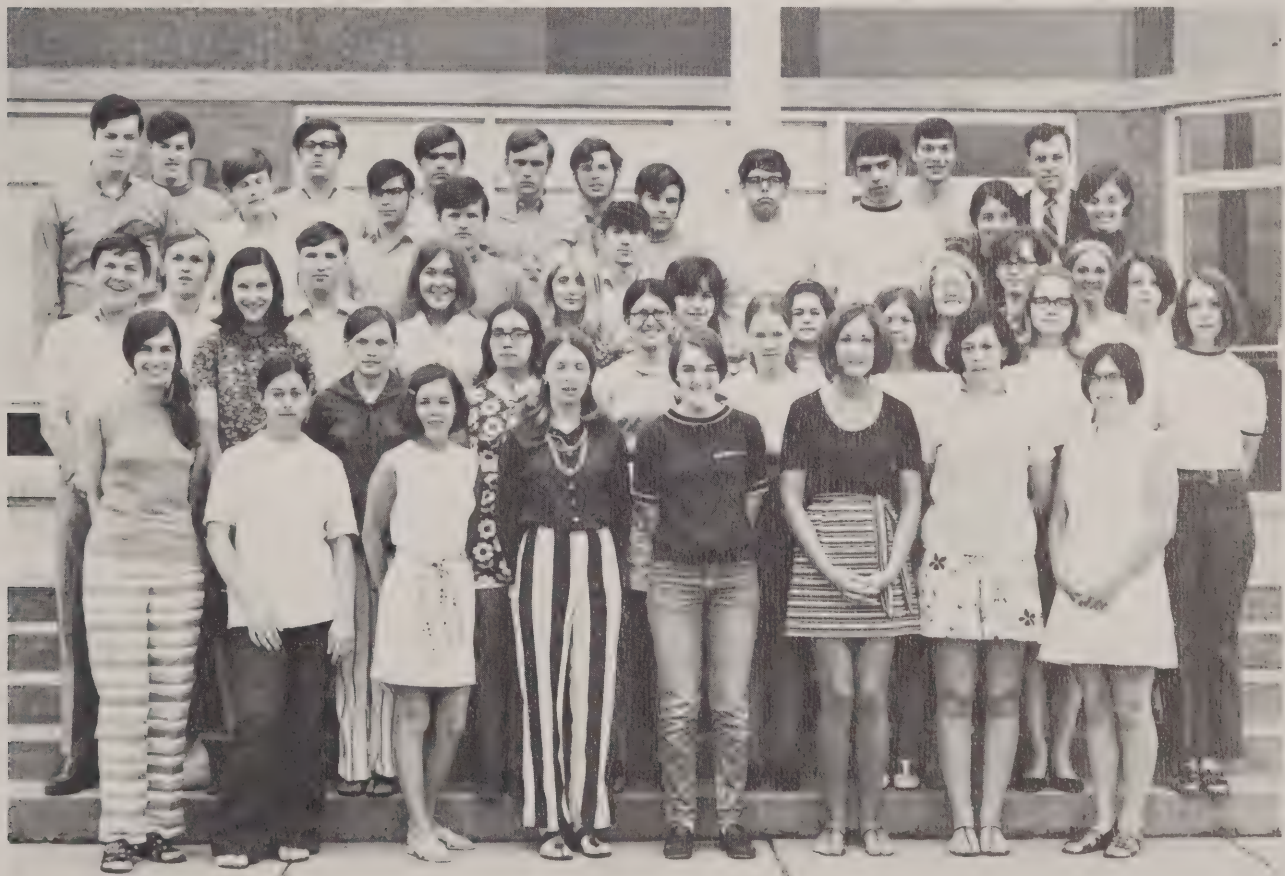

The Student Council, acting as a "liason between the administration, faculty, and the student body in an effort to promote the general welfare of the student body," as stated in the new constitution, has come a long way from the meaningless, functionless group of three years ago. This year's activities have shown the Council's effectiveness and power as a revamped student legislature.

In it's most far-reaching resolution of the year, the Council recommended the liberalization of the school's dress code, and by submitting it's preposition through proper channels, was able to secure those student privileges. Also accomplished by the Student Council was the reduction of penalties for smoking and tardiness. Homeroom period has been extended every Thursday morning so that representatives may discuss proposals and seek suggestions from their classmates. Passing time has been extended an extra minute, the morning notices posted on every hall, and a Student Handbook, outlining the rules, regulations, programs, and activities of Ludlow High, has been published. The Student Patrol is completely under the jurisdiction of the Council, and appointments are subject to approval by a Council majority.

Community activities for the year were also quite numerous. Council members urged involvement with their highly successful candy sale, and donations to Vietnam orphans. The Council — sponsored Earth Day Campaign and Environmental Assembly turned community thought towards our conservation problems.

Student Council Officers for the year were as follows: President, Ken McCarron; Vice-President, Jim Tetreault; Secretary, Chris Nowak; Treasurer, Sue Chenier; Captain of Patrol, Jim Calheno.

Earth Day, or Enviromental Day, was launched on April 22 through the combined efforts of Danny Koshinsky and Mrs. Lawrence Holdsworth.

Throughout the country, and in Ludlow, concerned people gathered in an effort to stop pollution and help Mother Earth. The students joined forces at the park in front of the Junior High and then proceeded to clean it. After this was done, all the trash was collected and put on display to show the townspeople that even towns can be choked with pollution in this day and age.

Mrs. Holdsworth instructs her group as to where to put trash when they are through.

Rick Methot found some pretty interesting trash.

HI-NEWS Begins Modernization Of Format With June Issue

The LUDLOW HI-NEWS, the monthly newspaper available to all G.O. members without charge, has begun a reorganization of its format. Attempting to add new interest and excitement to the high school chronicle, the staff published a June issue, with the traditional Senior Supplement, unlike any HI-NEWS Ludlow High has seen. The issue was devoted entirely to individuals with previously unrecognized achievements or hobbies, and contained feature articles on subjects such as twins, and students with famous ancestors. Even the Senior Supplement was modernized. The Class Ballot was highlighted by cartoon illustrations, and a two-page Senior Poster was the main attraction.

Membership on the HI-NEWS staff is open to all students who have skill in the mechanics of the language, creative style, a sense of public appeal and interest in journalism, plus ideas and dependability.

Mr. Jerome Linehan, the newspaper's advisor, feels that the student writer is given an opportunity to express himself and to gain experience in news, editorial, sports, and feature writing. Also a goal of the HI-News is to give the student population a means of recognition, a sense of awareness, and a feeling of school unity and spirit.

Maroon Key Promotes Athletic Competition

Ludlow High School's Maroon Key is under Mr. Charles Patullo's guidance. The main function of the club is to support and promote inter-school athletic competition as well as to boost regular athletic teams.

In order to qualify for this group, a prospective candidate must collect 5 points either from participation in athletics and/or honor roll status. He receives 1 point for every major varsity sport and for honor roll status at the end of the year. Half value is given for J.V. or minor varsity sports.

It is then no wonder that only "L.H.S.'s finest" are in the Maroon Key.

Pro Merito Sponsors Successful Fair

The Ludlow chapter of the National Honor Society increased its activities this year. The first undertaking was a book fair, held on October 21 through 23 in the school library. Society members gave up their study halls to sell paperback books on many subjects to the other students. This project increased the Society's funds considerably.

Junior initiations this year were fairly restrained. Instead of the outlandish initiations of the past years, the group decided that juniors would display the bizarre hats created by the seniors. At the initiation assembly, each incoming student was presented with a bronze pin and membership card.

The seniors took their annual trip to New York City in May. Along with Advisor William Lucia, and chaperones Mr. Bernard Burns, and Mr. Jerome Linehan, the group toured the Lincoln Center and the Cloisters Museum, and later consumed a delicious dinner at Manero's in Greenwich, Connecticut.

At the final awards assembly of the year, the seniors were presented with a certificate and gold pin certifying their permanent enrollment in the National Honor Society. At the graduation ceremonies, they were given further recognition by the gold tassels on their caps.

Youth Commission Organizes Teen Center At Ludlow Grange

The Ludlow Grange Hall was chosen as the temporary site for a youth center.

In the past few years, there has been an ever-growing trend toward helping the youth of our nation. This year, with the help of some interested adults, the young people of Ludlow formed a Youth Commission. The adult members of the commission are: Rev. Helen Galaska, Mr. Michael Thompson, Mr. Louis Casagrande, Mr. Charles Patullo, Mr. Robert Koss, Mr. Mack Donnelly, and Mr. John Sullivan. These people helped to organize a junior town meeting at which recommendations were made as to what could be done for our young people. It was finally decided that the Youth Commission would try to set up a drop-in center, where Ludlow youths of high school age could come and go as they pleased. At a special town meeting the Youth Commission was recognized as a town organization and was also aided financially. After a lot of hard work, the drop-in center was finally opened at the Ludlow Grange in the town center. During the school year, it was open on Friday and Saturday nights, sometimes sponsoring dances. All in all, the Youth Commission got off to a very good start. Let's hope it continues the good work.

Student Patrol Enforces Rules

With New Monitor System

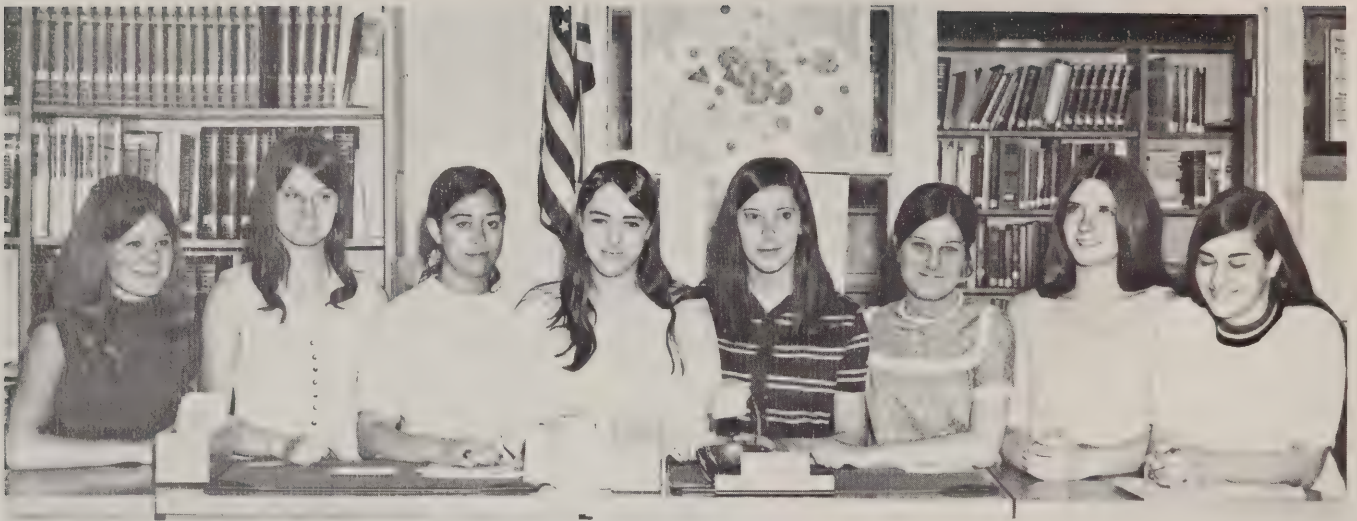

To prevent the practice of wandering in the halls without a pass, the Student Patrol devised a monitoring system, to check all students not in class. Stationed at patrol desks on all three floors, student monitors keep watch in all directions.

Student Patrol helps to keep the students moving swiftly so that at no time are any of the staircases or corridors of Ludlow High crowded. Headed by senior Jim Calheno, the Patrol is open to all students.

Students Aid Mrs. Walker In Organizing School Library

The Library Aid Club consists of boys or girls interested in working in the Ludlow High School library and learning related library skills during some or all of their study periods. Throughout the year periodic meetings are held with all members and new library techniques, set-ups, and systems are discussed. Mrs. Gwendolyn Walker, the school librarian, chooses her staff at the start of the school year.

Library Aides Eileen McGowan, Pat Wallace, Kathy Young, Rosemary Tourville, and Cecile Bouchard with Mrs. Gwendolyn Walker, Librarian.

Club Studies French Culture

With the purpose of enlivening the study of French at Ludlow High School, Mrs. Philomene Proctor formed the French Club. Membership is open to any student of French who is interested in formal participation in programs of songs, slides and films, French cuisine, art, music, and various cultural activities. Mr. James Martin of the Language Department joined the group this year in an advisory position.

Hispanic World Explored At LHS

Any student who wishes to join the Spanish Club must be enrolled in a Spanish course and must have a desire to learn more about the people and the countries in the Hispanic World. This is accomplished by viewing and discussing slides, films, magazines, and books. The club members also celebrate various Spanish holidays in the Spanish custom, go on field trips to Spanish shows, movies, and restaurants. Mrs. Barbara Sullivan Mr. James Marceau are advisors for the group.

Yearbook Staff Creates First "All-School" LION; Proclaims November 17 "Yearbook Day."

Discarding the traditional format of the LION, and embarking on a full-scale soliciting campaign, the 1970 yearbook staff proclaimed the first annual Yearbook Week and opened the sales campaign with a Yearbook Day assembly on November 17. Aimed at promoting underclassmen sales, the program stressed the importance of yearbook memories, and included short speeches by the editors, stating the major changes in their sections. The campaign was highly successful-yearbook sales were doubled over previous years.

The 1970 LION, setting the stage for future publications, is the first "all-school" yearbook in Ludlow High's history. Formerly, the LION was mainly a senior class book, created by a staff of seniors, and featuring the senior activities of the year. However, the 1970 staff felt that broader coverage of all classes and activities was necessary, since the senior class was not an isolated unit in the school, and also, because Ludlow High lacked a formal chronicle of a year.

With such considerations in mind, the inexperienced editorial staff began the monumental task by increasing the number of pages in the LION from approximately 160 to 220. Two new sections were formed — Underclassmen and Fine Arts. Activities and Events were grouped together, and for the first time, coverage was given to the individual organizations within the school. The Faculty Section was revised, giving more emphasis to teachers working with the students, and including innovations of the departments. In all sections, articles with the subject matter and captions for photographs, were included wherever it was deemed necessary. Emphasis was placed on realism, and editors tried to capture the year as seen through a student's eyes, encompassing all areas equally.

The editorial staff, under advisor Mr. Charles Bradshaw, and student direction of Cheryl Cristina, created the 1970 LION with the hopes that their format will be the foundation on which future LION editions will build.

A Tribute To Mrs. Mary T. Cormier . . .

. . . With Thanks . . .

After nearly forty years of unselfish service to the young people of Ludlow, Mrs. Mary Cormier, Chairman of L.H.S. Business Department, has parted from us to enjoy what we hope will be a long and happy retirement. In her typical fashion, she kept secret her plans until the close of the school year, lest she receive the tributes she so truly deserved. Indeed, no bands announced her departure, nor did flags wave. But for all recorded time, the 1970 LION will be her testimonial. Thus it shall read:

She came to Ludlow in troubled times and left in equally troubled times — she was the hope and the light for thousands of young people of this town during their troubled times. She taught them a way of life, a life of industry, self-sacrifice, and humility — always placing herself in a position to help others — students, faculty, and friends. Now the “little lady” is as big a memory for Ludlow High School as life itself. She is a great lady with the kind of energy and faith which seem to be attributes of a dying credo in education. Her efforts, though, have and will have untold beneficial consequences for all whom she knew.

And so, to one of the truly beautiful people, we say goodbye. And while we are happy that she can now enjoy some well-deserved rest, we are sad that her contagious smile will no longer grace our corridors. We are sad that someone, without the conventional boasting, loved her work, her students, her colleagues, and by her goodness has worked for and found peace all of her life — sad, because we fear her kind is not readily found in these troubled times. May God reward her for such dedication now and always.

Red Cross, Future Nurses, Aid Community In Hospital Work

In cooperation with the Springfield Inter-High Council, the Ludlow Red Cross Organization carries out activities of service for others.

Money collected each fall for the American Red Cross helps support all Red Cross projects. Among these was a clothes drive for the Belchertown State School, the sewing of stuffed animals for these children, and decorating a veteran's hospital for Saint Patrick's Day.

Membership in the Red Cross consists of one elected member from each home room, plus any other student who is interested in helping.

An interest in a medical career of any kind is the only qualification for membership in the Future Nurses of America. Mrs. Helen Girard, advisor for the group, has taken the girls on field trips to hospitals in order to see various nursing methods. Throughout the year, representatives from area hospitals and nursing schools came to speak about different phases of hospital work.

COLOR PORTRAITS

by

Bosworth Studios

At the time, your high school graduation seems the most wonderful event in your life. But there's lots more to come. College graduation, your wedding, your first baby, your first grandchild. Sure, at this time, they all seem way off in the future, but one after the other they will all seem to come along before you realize it.

Make them live forever in your memory with lovely Full Fidelity Color portraits by Bosworth Studios. Best of all, you'll find that beautiful color by Bosworth costs no more than old fashioned black-and-white. So next time you're marking one of the milestones in your life, make sure you phone us for an appointment.

... And as we leave these familiar scenes, these familiar faces, we realize the valuable lessons in humanity we have experienced — the good times and bad — the work and the fun. We have begun to discover our personal roles in society, and can step out into the turmoil of life with a firm foundation to rest upon. Our footsteps sound down the hall and through the open door to the world beyond

But

They Will Echo In These Corridors Forever.
